Dear Bill -

Thanks for your mailing.

I have no further info on McDonald and wonder if it is now worth any time or effort.

Is there any point in attracting attention to it when it is a fake?

Is its day past? I think so.

I'll file and of course read first anything you may be able to turn up on this but with all the more constructive things I can do with the little time I have this does not seem to me warrant any more work from me . Not now, anyway.

Best to all,
